I used Google Earth to map out our locations, and then make a "movie" of the spots. The movie worked poorly because, I think, when I searched to our locations - I would find commercial sites with web pages and other info and built the entry off that. Makes for a lot of odd info flashing on the screen when you "play" the movie. Next time just "find" location as a map location to generate the point to add to Google Earth.

xperience It! Downton Abbey

the county of Hampshire, England stands the magnificent Highclere Castle – otherwise nown as Downton Abbey. The worldwide phenomenon (seen on PBS in the United tates) is filmed here; the show uses the exterior and interior of the castle as the setting r the tragedies and triumphs of the Crawley family. In reality, the castle is home to the arl and Countess of Carnarvon and the 1,000-acre site has been in their family's name nce 1679. As you walk along the grounds in the same footsteps as Lord and Lady rantham, and see with your own eyes the rooms in which Matthew and Lady Mary egan their tumultuous love affair, you will truly feel as if you have stepped back through me (or perhaps through your television).
