B13 Stratford-on-Avon train to Marylebone Stn, London

Sunday, August 24, 2014

We checked out of Falcon Inn, took cab to train station & our Hogwarts Experience begins

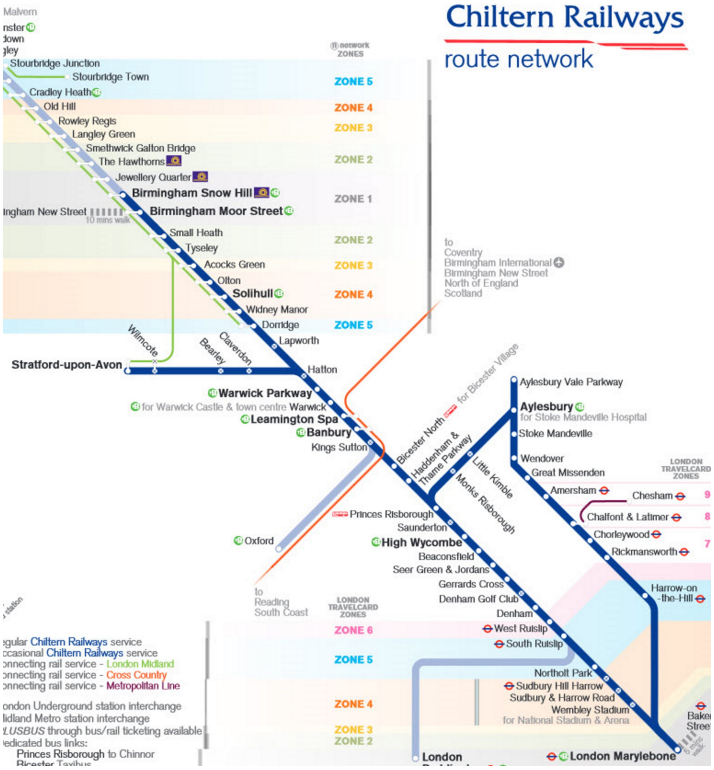

Glen guarding our bags waiting for the 9:38a to London Marylebone Station on way to Euston

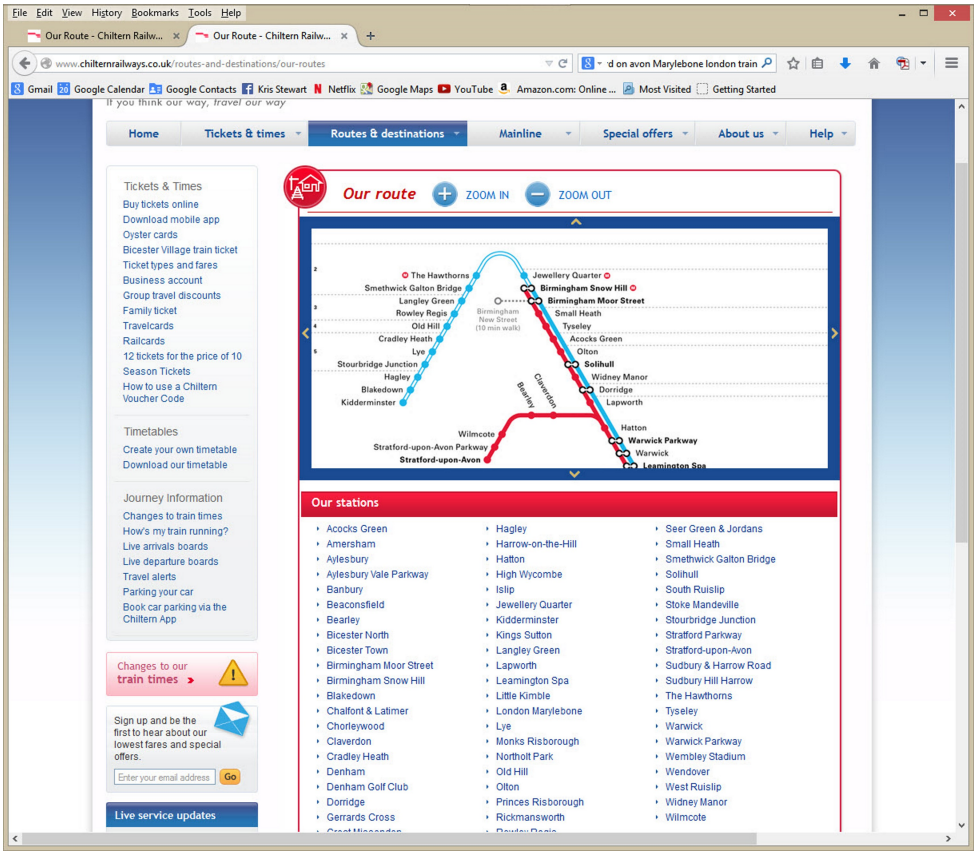

Chiltern RR route - redrawn to make routes easier to follow for changes. We never purchased "Oyster Card" which would have made travel easier on this line, but not on Caledonian Sleepers

They also have a dynamic site with more info, but need to scroll with mouse http://www.chilternrailways.co.uk/routes-and-destinations/our-routes

No, transfers needed until London - trying to capture station names are we pass thru

RJ and Lise used train to Warwick castle

The conductor comes through to take our tickets. Also gives a view of the baggage we're going to be checking at Euston Station, once we get there from Marylebone London Station

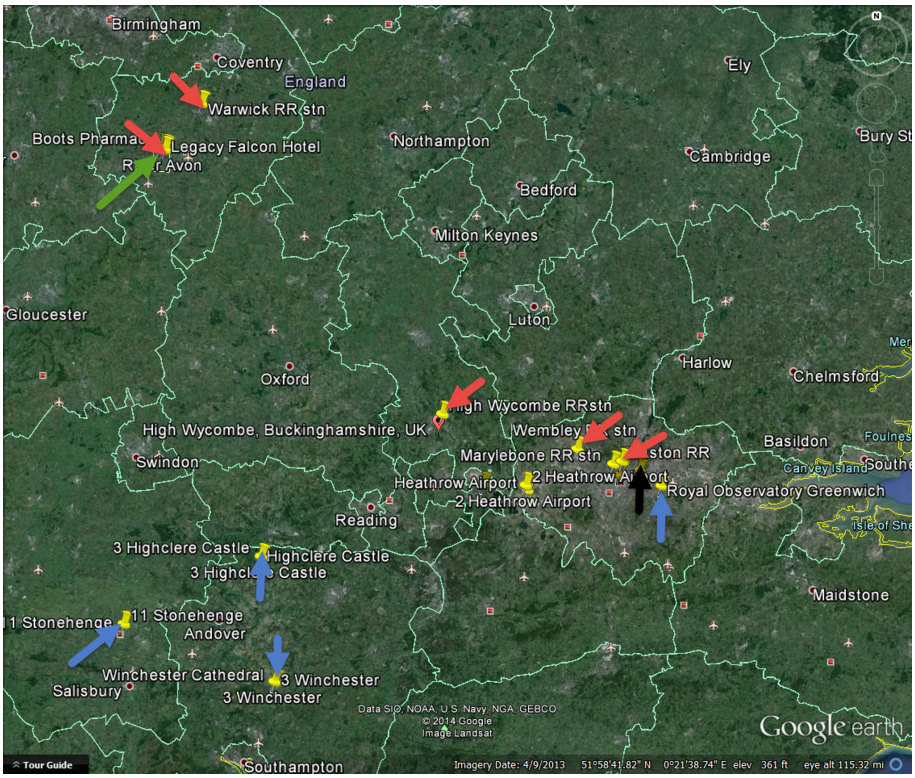

Pass through Wembley Station

Taking a screen capture from Google Earth helps put things in perspective since our original tour was on the "Coach", did not have a map handy and traffic is awkward, and later we were on the train.

Below the Black Arrow points to our London "Tower Grange Hotel" jump off point for Blue Arrow sites Maritime Museum in Greenwich, all the castles (not marked) [Windsor, Buckingham, …] Winchester Cathedral, Highclere Castle, Green Array is Stratford upon Avon and- mistake Stonehenge should be Green Arrow not Blue, the Red Arrows are the train tide from Stratford to Marylebone London.

Okay, now we need to get a cab from Marylebone Station to Euston cause these bags are a pain.

London Marylebone