JANUARY 1, 2016

OSML
JANUARY 2, 2016

Will call tickets by the fig tree at Balboa Park
JANUARY 3, 2016

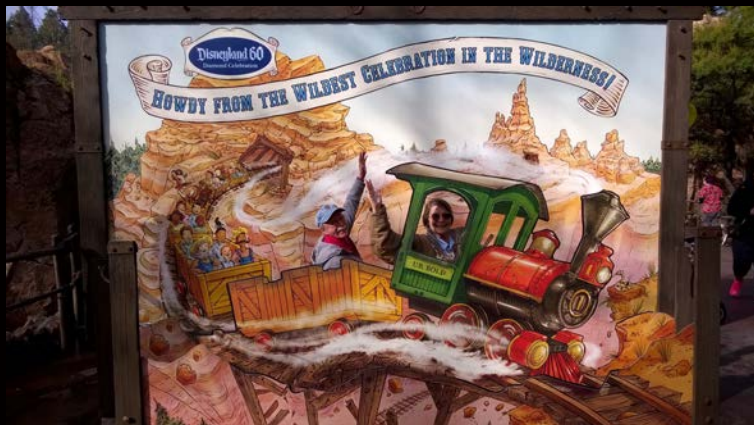

Kris' 66th bday - Hope to be awake for 9p, 9:30p fireworks tonight. Dropping off bags w my buddy Goofy. Already have my bday balloon & button

JANUARY 9, 2016

Glen is a great photographer

JANUARY 9, 2016

JANUARY 9, 2016

Napping in Toontown. I think Glen has earned a beer in Downtown Disney

JANUARY 9, 2016

As Glen just said, someone smiled on us big time. I just got talked into watching fireworks from warmth of our room
Paradise Pier
JANUARY 10, 2016

The jets are gurgling for World of Color. Yes the 14th floor
(1428) best room ever & Glen asked for a cheap one
JANUARY 10, 2016

Sun's down. Great to have a rest in "A Room with a View" before heading to Carthay Circle in DCA (Disney Calif Adventure)

JANUARY 10, 2016

Radiator Springs Racers, here we come. Magic Morning today is DCA (Disney Calif. Adventure), Route 66. Best place for a bday

JANUARY 10, 2016

Me, Glen, Walt and the mouse, yahoo

JANUARY 10, 2016

Fast line for handicapped st Racers. Helps to have Fastpass from D hotel

JANUARY 10, 2016

Racers
JANUARY 10, 2016

Breakfast at Flo's. Thank you Glen
JANUARY 10, 2016

French toast w caramel sauce at Flo's, the only place I know that gives me enough GOOD caramel sauce. Watching the Racers & listening to classic, road trip R&R

JANUARY 10, 2016

Paradise Pier

JANUARY 10, 2016

Okay, got my photo w Goofy. Did Indy Jones, the Star Traders store in Tomorrowland, in line for frozen lemonade in a BB-8 jug and then we'll take the monorail back to by Paradise Pier where car is parked. Thanks to Nancy Douglas and Leigh Douglas for voice mail singing happy bday to me.

JANUARY 10, 2016

Glen is nice enough to hold my new BB-8 container of frozen lemonade

JANUARY 10, 2016

Better to follow Glen holding BB-8 by his head

JANUARY 10, 2016

Fish Tacos in Bibb lettuce wrap at Leucadia's Priority Public House, it's a winner

JANUARY 23, 2016

Lake Wobegon, where the women are strong, the men are good looking & the children are above average. What fun in downtown San Diego today

JANUARY 23, 2016

We're parked & searching for food before our show

JANUARY 23, 2016

Food

JANUARY 23, 2016

I believe

JANUARY 23, 2016

Row Z, but there's also Row AA to DD.

JANUARY 23, 2016

Freefall Jazz at Seafire Restaurant in Carlsbad, wow we had good Mediterranean pizza and great music. What a great day.

Thanks Tim Dowty and Steve Smith

JANUARY 24, 2016

JANUARY 25, 2016

Yeah, Judy M and I are are back at SDSU to hear from Vint Cerf.
This will be archived and I'll share the link later for "The Future

Fry's has a tiny shark in their fish tank in San Marcos

JANUARY 29, 2016

Los Tres Sapos for the last time at Encinitas' El Callejon

JANUARY 29, 2016

I love Encinitas. Spiffy billboard on south end of town, near Java Hut. Storm trooper on skateboard - thank you Nixon Watches, Encinitas

JANUARY 29, 2016

One body surfer out at Boomers - which is thumping

JANUARY 29, 2016

So much white water near Childrens Pool, La Jolla

JANUARY 29, 2016

Was it December or January when Wind 'n Sea lost The Shack?

JANUARY 29, 2016

My fav from our coastline check was the pelicans, and seals, at Childrens

JANUARY 30, 2016

? Some sort of car show in Costco lot while I got gas. Puzzling?

JANUARY 30, 2016

Dana Point for the annual MS Society meeting, love the SURPHER elephant in the lobby

JANUARY 30, 2016

"Together We Are Stronger" - this years theme for the Pacific Southwest Multiple Sclerosis Society panel of experts

JANUARY 30, 2016

Major power outages all over San Diego from last night big wind. Glen hooked up generator so my ice cream doesn't melt. Got to try out my gadgets in Sportsmobile, without network.

FEBRUARY 1, 2016

Superbowl Sunday we head to Death Valley for 1st camping adventure in Sportsmobile. Just prepaid for network & Verizon map looks kinda sparse in that area. Oh well, Glen & I can converse for entertainment

FEBRUARY 2, 2016

Barstow Mother Road Museum

FEBRUARY 6, 2016

Barstow's Casa del Desierto, RR museum

FEBRUARY 6, 2016

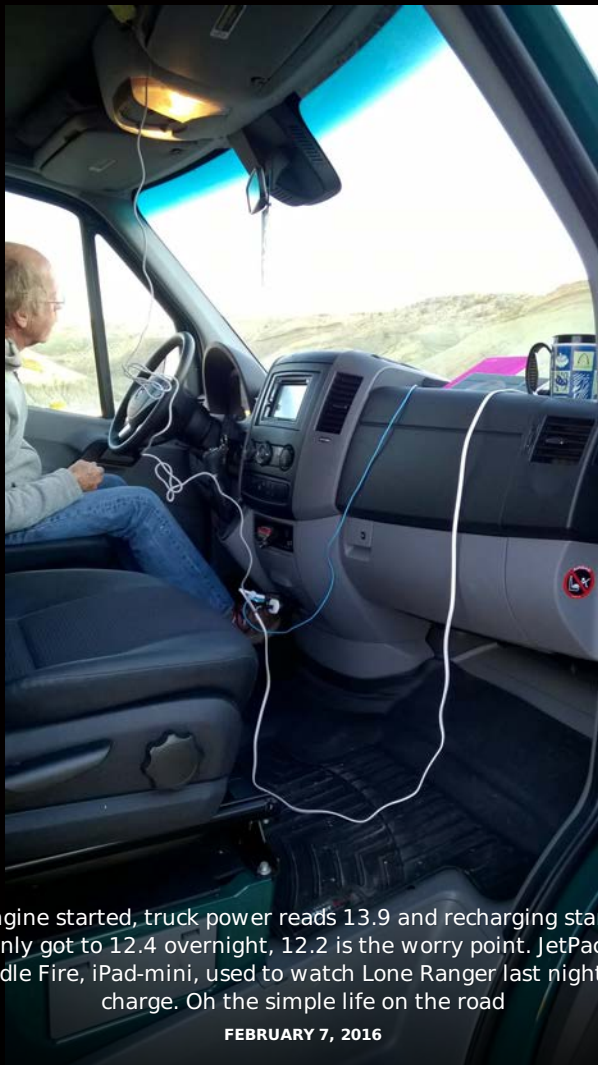

Doing the Rainbow Basin Natural Area loop, yes let's camp here for the night

FEBRUARY 6, 2016

Chef Glen last night. Finding network is a challenge

FEBRUARY 7, 2016

Engine started, truck power reads 13.9 and recharging starts. Only got to 12.4 overnight, 12.2 is the worry point. JetPack, Kindle Fire, iPad-mini, used to watch Lone Ranger last night, all charge. Oh the simple life on the road

FEBRUARY 7, 2016

Road to Dante's view still has little bit of snow. Furnace Creek, 190 ft below sea level, has free wifi. Happy 100 birthday for the National Park Service

FEBRUARY 8, 2016

Glen pulls over for flowers in desert

FEBRUARY 8, 2016

Teakettle Junction, after driving over LOTS of washboard

FEBRUARY 9, 2016

I caught up with those racing rocks, trying to get them to stop,
Raceway, Death Valley

FEBRUARY 9, 2016

Uncle Fred B final view in Death Valley, the park he loved so

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Breakfast at Ubehebe Crater after 2 hours of washboard from Teakettle Junction

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Here's me near Stovepipe Wells

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Furnace Creek Inn w view of D Valley

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Lets go back to Furnace Creek campground $9 or $400+ for the fancy hotel

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Kris found her DVRR (Death Valley RailRoad) locomotive at the Furnace Creek Ranch

FEBRUARY 10, 2016

Hope you can see the Cheshire Cat moon above this sunset at Texas Springs camp DV

FEBRUARY 11, 2016

Have I mentioned how great our new rig is? Yahoo! Texas Spring DV camp ground, no generators allowed, I'd forgotten how quiet the desert can be. Big surf arriving Sat, so we're headed home. Glen will be back at Swamis - have you missed him?

FEBRUARY 11, 2016

Sun's up so I get my shadow, time to hit the road. Hope to stop at Mad Greek restaurant in Baker for cookies

FEBRUARY 11, 2016

A true sign of the Mojave, look out for desert tortoise

FEBRUARY 11, 2016

We missed a freight train pulling thru Kelso, could see in the distance from KelBaker Rd. Headed for New York Mountains

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

Mid Hills campground #22 Mojave, has view of trains in valley floor & finally figured out how to do stretches - use picnic table!

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

Flag is up at Hole-in-the-Wall Info Center 9a opens. Lets go take a look. Have 4 bars on my JetPack wifi gadget

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

Fun on the I40 west cause it's so near the tracks. Can kinda see the 2 pumpkin pushers (BNSF locomotives) at end of this freight train. Also had 2 pumpkins at the front

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

Yeah, still here - need to watch the movie (Bagdad Cafe) again once we get home

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

2 pumpkins just outside Barstow

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

Great to see San Diego's freeway are blooming with our state flower, the poppy

FEBRUARY 12, 2016

One legged pigeon posing at Swamis. Happy Valentines Day folks

FEBRUARY 14, 2016

Birch Aquarium has a nifty humpback whale w seagull on the tail.

FEBRUARY 21, 2016

Leafy seadragon is my fav

FEBRUARY 21, 2016

When Glen & I were married I was working at SIO as Harmon Craig POGO slave. Seems like such a long time ago, 26mar1975

FEBRUARY 21, 2016

Watching the Happy 60 Birthday to Disneyland show from last night TV, I need to head north & get my Hipster Mickey today

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

#Disneyland60 free 2 hour parking @ Downtown Disney & want 2 more hours free w WonderGround validation

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

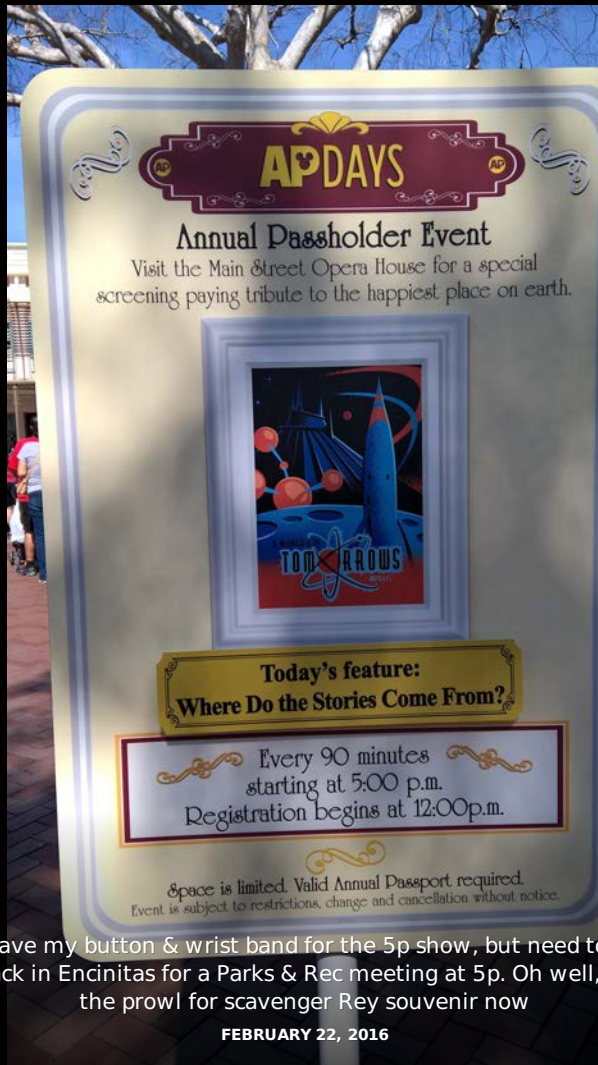

#Disneyland60 Mancheko Cheese salad at El Catal gets me 2 more free parking hours, sharing with Hipster Mickey

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

Dates, apples, manchego cheese, arugula - so good for me & the Hipster. Thanks to artist Jerrod Maruyama

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

I have my button & wrist band for the 5p show, but need to be back in Encinitas for a Parks & Rec meeting at 5p. Oh well, on the prowl for scavenger Rey souvenir now

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

#shareyouears so Disney donates to Make A Wish

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

Maybe by summer, they'll have Rey. Now it's only Rey Speeder & BB-8

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

Rey's daily routine on Jakku consists of treks into the junkfields, where she explores thru the massive wrecks collecting valuable pieces of tech. Rey needs to protect herself from the harsh sun & dangerous scavengers

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

They are building Star Wars Land now, so can't walk from Fantasyland to Frontierland for quite a while

FEBRUARY 22, 2016

Now this is a HooDoo - Bisti Wilderness Area in New Mexico

MARCH 26, 2016

Star Wars The Force Awakens, yeah I watched my digital download and loved this movie all over again. Then 2 hours of Bonus Material is super

APRIL 2, 2016

Yep I recommend all 2 hours of the bonus materials of Star Wars The Force Awakens

APRIL 2, 2016

Officially spring, our desert tortoise Buddy woke up

APRIL 4, 2016

APRIL 5, 2016

I'll have to keep searching for Wheaties boxes ... Ryan Dungey - never heard of him

By the cement pelican on right you can see the light that will fit in the cement fish mouth to provide better light on backyard stairs

APRIL 10, 2016

Light is on now

APRIL 10, 2016

Our desert tortoise takes his 1st bite of cantaloupe for this year.
Only eats romaine lettuce & cantaloupe, curious how a fussy eater like this has survived since prehistoric times. He's around 45 years old, fyi

APRIL 12, 2016

Tomorrow Monument Valley

APRIL 20, 2016

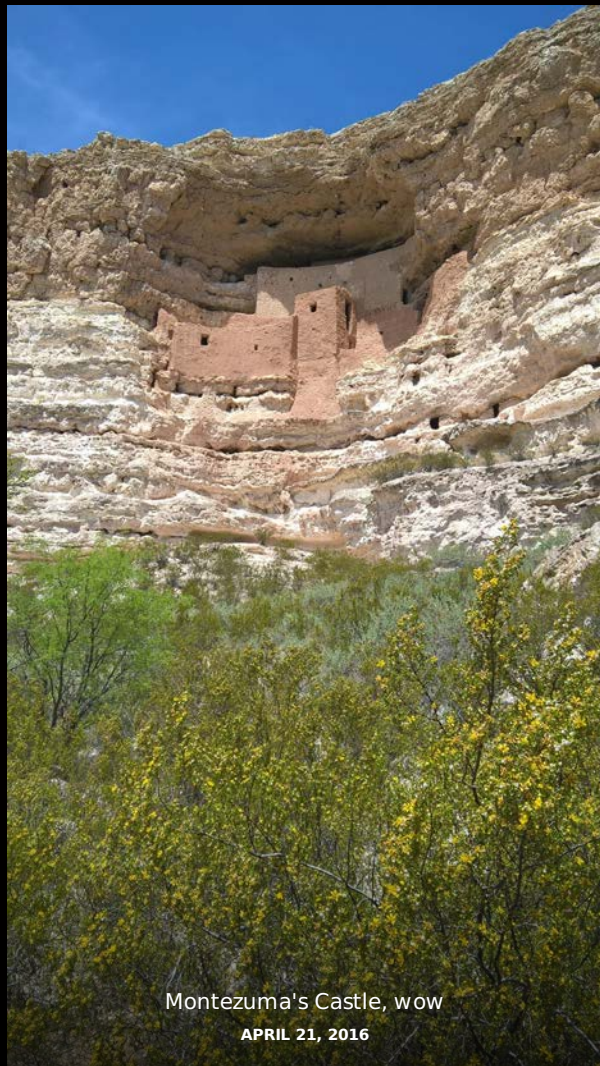

Space Age Lodge in Gila Bend, only spotting for diesel now, but hope to stay here when returning home. GREAT place to spend the night,

APRIL 21, 2016

Diesel for $1.85 in Chandler AZ, don't they add taxes in this state?

APRIL 21, 2016

Montezuma's Castle, wow

APRIL 21, 2016

Kris & Teddy

APRIL 21, 2016

Cameron Trading Post & RV Park, on the Little Colorado, that's our home tonight. Monument Valley tomorrow for a few days.

Having fun

APRIL 22, 2016

Monument Valley at 6000 ft won't be too hot today

APRIL 22, 2016

Just like in the brochures, these are "the mittens" with the shadow on the rock being me w camera over my head

APRIL 23, 2016

Glen on the left w tripod. His pix are always great

APRIL 23, 2016

Sun's down, but another photo opp

APRIL 23, 2016

Totem Pole, waiting for Moon Rise. Past the line where haoles are allowed, but our guide Dedrick Cly knows how to drive in sand. It'll be really dark on the return drive

APRIL 23, 2016

Kris in her Mammoth Lakes Pack Outfit jacket and bandana - the wind is blowing and the temp is cool enough for me. Monument Valley is a spiritual place, glad we have a couple more days here in our palace. Want to join me in some ice cream?

APRIL 23, 2016

Without a tripod, I hope you get the idea of how special this was. Full Moon, driven by Navajo Dedrick Cly past the no trespassing sign on a very rough road to the Totem Pole on the left in this pic

APRIL 23, 2016

Good morning from Monument Valley, no wind this morning.
This view was blocked by sand & dust yesterday

APRIL 24, 2016

During one of the last and bloodiest battles for the Pacific, on Iwo Jima, the Navajo Code was used to assist in co-ordinating the major landing operation.

Maj. Howard Conner, Signal Officer of the 5th Marine Division said, "During the first 48 hours, while we were landing and consolidating our shore positions, I had six Navajo radio nets operating around the clock. In that period alone, they sent and received over 800 messages without an error."

One last major revision of the code was made in anticipation of a monumental invasion of the Japanese homeland planned for November 1, 1945. However, this invasion never occurred. Instead, the United States opted to drop the atomic bomb, the first on Hiroshima, August 6, 1945, and the second on Nagasaki on August 9th. Navajo Code Talkers continued to serve during the Occupation of Japan and China.

Marine combat losses in the Pacific war were 19,733 killed in action, 67,207 wounded in action, and 348 Marine prisoners of war. Of the some 400 Navajo Code Talkers who fought, at least 9 were killed in action and 2 died of wounds.

The service rendered by the Navajo Code Talkers was critical to the Allied Victory in the Pacific. Without the accurate, secure, and rapid means of communications offered by the use of the Navajo Code, it is very likely that the outcome of World War II would have been entirely different. The United States could potentially have lost the war. The Navajo Code has been praised as the only code in military history to never be broken by the enemy.

As a Marine Corps brat, I swell with pride when I read about the Navajo Code Talkers of WW2 and the impact they had.

APRIL 24, 2016

Glen and our palace with The Mittens of Monument Valley

APRIL 24, 2016

Farewell to Monument Valley, on to Valley of the Gods with bakery check in Mexican Hat

APRIL 25, 2016

Glen is getting great shots of our campsite on BLM Valley of the Gods, Utah

APRIL 25, 2016

Weather is changing, 50% chance of rain today & 90% chance tomorrow. Wind really blowing our palace. We'll focus on getting out early cause road signs indicate they are impassable when wet. Head to Canyon de Chelly tomorrow to study The Ancients

APRIL 25, 2016

Tonight's meal in the Valley of the Gods - no one else in sight.
Big winds blowing are no worry for us. Thanks to Chef Glen

APRIL 26, 2016

Swing around the screen for later tonight we continue our Tony Hillerman movie binge w Coyote Waits. Sure glad PBS showed these as American Mystery nights. Last night was Skinwalkers

APRIL 26, 2016

Rain in the Valley of the Gods. Glen says if we get stuck, we've got supplies & power. Don't worry Kris

APRIL 26, 2016

Yes that's Officer Jim Chee, Navajo Trial Police on the screen and rain on the window. What fun Glen & I are having in the land of "The People"

APRIL 26, 2016

Valley of the Gods, Glen found the perfect tortured juniper tree to use as model for his bonzais at home

APRIL 26, 2016

BIA12 from north rim Canyon de Chelly towards Farmington NM for supplied, then dry camp couple days at Chako Canyon

APRIL 27, 2016

And then BIA13 thru the mountains. Very windy & pretty and some snow on side of road. Shiprock NM here we come

APRIL 27, 2016

Farmington for DEF (diesel exhaust fluid) cause the dash light went off. Being in a "big city" is handy when rig decides to talk to us

APRIL 27, 2016

I didn't expect hoodoos on our way out of Farmington NM

APRIL 27, 2016

Glen is off hiking and I'm at the Chaco Cultural National Historic Park VC (visitor center) using their wifi. Thought you'd enjoy the petroglyph Glen hikes up and photographed.

APRIL 30, 2016

There are so many alignments of these "great houses" with astronomical events. This pic is the VC and in the distance Fajada Butte, which was discovered to have etchings by the ancients to mark the Solstices and Equinox(es?). Powerful, spiritual area that's had inhabitants for 10,000 years after they crossed the ice bridge to Alaska after the last

APRIL 30, 2016

APRIL 30, 2016

If Chaco is seeing flurry of snow, what will Angels Peak campground have for tonight

MAY 1, 2016

Angels Peak Scenic Rec Area has badland, that will have to do.
Pic may not show, but we see big snow flakes. Let's head for Winslow AZ and "standing on a corner" statue

MAY 1, 2016

Off in the distance, in the rain, see Shiprock. We'll get fuel in the town of Shiprock and hope to reach Meteor Crater RV Park tonight

Shiprock is fascinating geology due to its "wings". We saw it better on the way out using Navajo13. The wall of igneous rock takes your breath away

MAY 1, 2016

What's really special is the Eagles music playing

MAY 2, 2016

Yikes, the best pic of all failed to upload. Me & Glen standing on a corner ...
MAY 2, 2016

Now that's a deep hole - Meteor Crater AZ
MAY 2, 2016

Great lunch in Flagstaff with a couple of Encinitas buddies - Dave N Judie. They're at the start of adventure while we are starting to slowly head home. Never planned to meet, just ended up working out

MAY 2, 2016

Amazingly small world. Yesterday just wanted to get south of Flagstaff and a decent place to stop. Glen's RVBuddy app said KrazyK would suffice - turns out this is Montezuma Castle exit - our unexpected find at the start of this roadtrip

MAY 3, 2016

Excellent advice, "slow down, enjoy the drive, explore Arizona"

MAY 3, 2016

MAY 11, 2016

Time to return to Racers w our FastPass. You can barely see the back on the yellow Racer making it around the big rock

MAY 11, 2016

We won!

MAY 11, 2016

Yesterday the NPS re-enacted the Golden Spike - 10may1869 - joining the Union Pacific and Central Pacific trains together.
 Maybe for 10may2019, glen and i can be in utah to celebrate the 150 years - sesquicentennial

MAY 12, 2016

Mallet finger, oops they don't want the new splint to ever get wet

MAY 13, 2016

Xray w new splint. Keep immobilized so new bone can grow to fill in the gap. I'll have a bump on my finger & another story to tell

MAY 13, 2016

Great music & the sax player just joined in - Freefall Jazz Band
San Diego

MAY 15, 2016

Here's the whole wall, walking upstairs in our Pannikin. Upper middle is the color (red) of the original move of the original Encinitas train station.

Super Moon will set in half hour or so. If you know our W-facing backyard you may recognize our cactus & trees across the canyon as the moon comes down

NOVEMBER 14, 2016

Glen says it'll be better tomorrow when the sun will have started to rise (E) and the trees in Canyon (W) start being lit. I'll set up a tripod camera then, but now it's time you head to new SB pool, cause the Y pool is closed for repairs

NOVEMBER 14, 2016

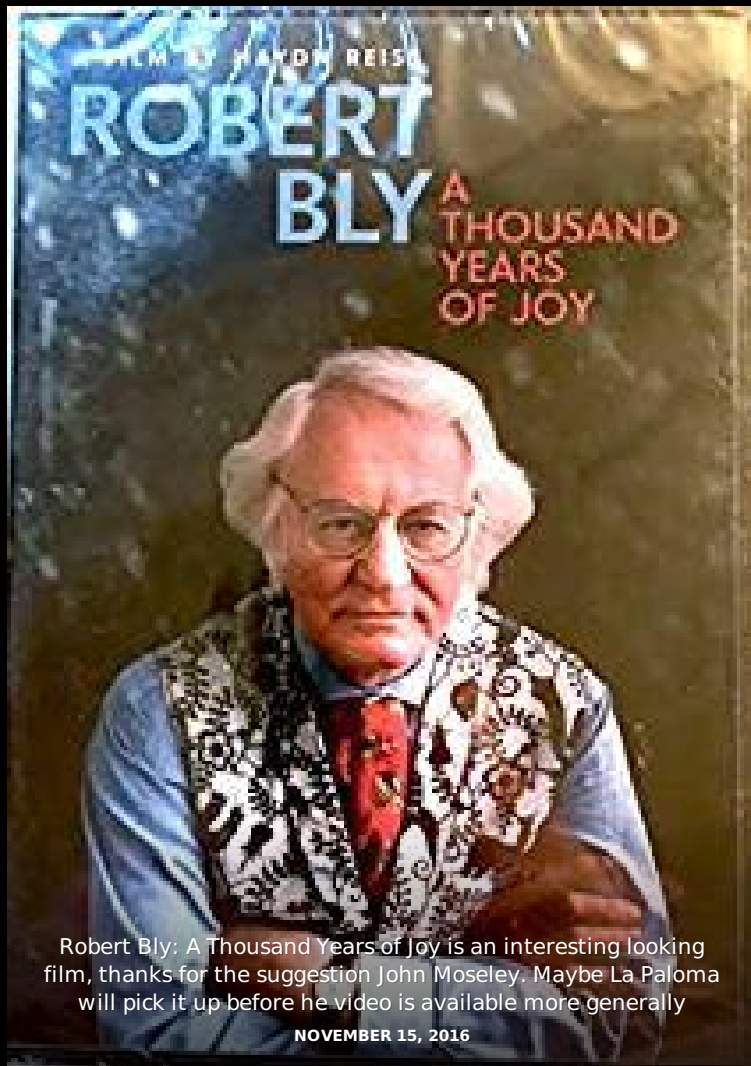

Yes tomorrow morning will be better w the tripod. Love that Super Moon. The full moon of November 14 is not only the closest full moon of 2016 but also the closest full moon to date in the 21st century. The full moon won't come this close to Earth again until November 25, 2034.

NOVEMBER 14, 2016

John Welsh and Heidi Welsh, you've a great view of the Super Moon from near your front yard on Melba. Wow!

NOVEMBER 14, 2016

Robert Bly: A Thousand Years of Joy is an interesting looking film, thanks for the suggestion John Moseley. Maybe La Paloma will pick it up before he video is available more generally

DECEMBER 16, 2016

You can see Hanalei Pier on the right along w lots of white water for The Bay

DECEMBER 17, 2016

Took advantage of a break in the stormy conditions north shore kauai to walk to pier. Better having windy rainy at the end of our 2 weeks in paradise

DECEMBER 17, 2016

Love the end of Hanalei Pier

DECEMBER 17, 2016

One of these Hanalei Bay beach houses was used in the movie The Descendants. Remember George Clooney peaking over the hedge?

DECEMBER 17, 2016

Great dinner last night with Steve, Arelia and Barbara Baker. They're really for Christmas

DECEMBER 18, 2016

Amazing how the surf cleaned up last night. Glen's celebrating a great last session in the warm water of The Bay with a pineapple sculpin
